

Interdisciplinary Research in Jurisprudence and Constitutionalism

(Archiv für Rechts- und Sozialphilosophie - Beihefte (ARSP-B))

Michael Anderheiden (Editor), Stephan Kirste (Editor), Pasquale Policastro (Editor), Anne van Aaken (Editor)

Paperback: 267 pages

Publisher: Franz Steiner Verlag (February 9, 2012)

Language: English

ISBN-10: 3515099417

ISBN-13: 978-3515099417

Content:

Introduction --

Limits and possibilities of interdisciplinary research into law : a comparison of pragmatist and positivist views / Bart van Klink, Sanne Taekema --

The paradox of interdisciplinary research / Michael Anderhein --

The genuine contribution of jurisprudence to an interdisciplinary discourse / Stephan Kirste --

Balancing law and politics : the contribution of political theory / Oliver W. Lembcke --

Law, performatives, and normativity : testing the limits and potential of interdisciplinary research / Vasiliki Christou --

Law and cinema : knowing law through art / Juliana Neuenschwander-Magalhães --

Collective rights : a case study of interdisciplinary approach in jurisprudence / Miodrag
A. Jovanović --

Efficiency as a normative principle / Klaus Mathis --

Import, export, and multilateral translation : methodological lessons from an economic analysis of paternalism in contract law / Péter Cserne --

A functional approach to international constitutionalism : the value added of a social science contribution / Anne van Aaken -- Constitutionalism vs. economic analysis : on the use of founding theories and complementary theories in constitutional interpretation / Pasquale Policastro –

Vorschläge zu einer Demokratietheorie der dualen demokratischen Legitimation europäischer Hoheitsgewalt / Jelena von Achenbach –

The right of defense in the framework of multilevel constitutionalism / Raffaele Lapenta –

Multilevel constitutionalism equality and non-discrimination / Teresa Freixes, Merce
Sales –

Legal-cultural approach to European law / Markku Kiikeri.